Here's a simple and natural note you can use:
My Friend Raghvendra
Raghvendra is one of my good friends, and I enjoy spending time with him. He is a kind, friendly, and helpful person who always tries to support his friends whenever they need him. He has a calm and positive personality, and his sense of humor often makes our conversations more enjoyable. Raghvendra is also hardworking and takes his responsibilities seriously. We have shared many good moments together, including studying, discussing different topics, and enjoying our free time. One thing I really appreciate about him is that he is honest and easy to talk to. Even when we have different opinions, we understand and respect each other. Our friendship has given me many memorable experiences, and I hope we continue to stay good friends in the future.
